Berger Board Plans To Hear Complaints

Nurses Demand 'Change,' Ask Meeting Soon

14 Draw Up Their Resignations To Back Grievances

The Board of Governors of Berger Hospital described Saturday a series of developments in which 14 of the hospital nurses are now demanding "changes" in the hospital management.

In a letter dated last Tuesday, the nurses submitted resignations which would be effective the end of this month unless "a meeting between the Board of Governors and the active nurses of Berger Hospital is held before July 15, 1954" to discuss the nurses' demands. The Board has replied it will welcome the opportunity to confer with the nurses, but at the next regular meeting of the on July 21 instead of next Thursday. Board members said they know of no reason why the later date should not be agreeable to the nurses. The letter in which the Board suggested the July 21 meeting was dated Friday.

Spokesmen for the controlling body said the nurses have not given the board a list of their grievances.

Board members said they decided to place the full story of the controversy before the public, not only because of the vital community interests involved, but also to check "a considerable amount of misinformation" already in circulation.

MEMBERS of the nurses group said they planned to issue a public statement over the weekend.

Berger Hospital is operated jointly by the city of Circleville and Pickaway County. The Board of Governors has eight members as follows:

Richard Simkins, Bob Brehmer, Durward Dowden, Harry Heffner, Dr. Edwin S. Shane, Dr. R. S. Hosler, Glenn Grimes and Howard Koch. Dr. Hosler, along with Heffner, Grimes and Koch, represent the county's side of the joint management.

Mrs. Margaret Bradbury is superintendent.

More Foreign Aid Bill Changes Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign Relations Committee members gathered against a backdrop of ringing Senate debate today to stake out further changes in an already-cut foreign aid bill.

Acting Chairman H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) summoned the group to a closed session this morning to take up other portions of the multi-billion-dollar measure which the committee yesterday said could be slashed $347,708,000 without harming the nation's cold war aims.

Knowland's present amendment, reportedly offered at administration urging, is a sharp modification of his original proposal which would have had Congress outline U. S. policy in advance.

The amendment would state anew U. S. opposition to the admission of Red China to the U.N. and request President Eisenhower.

British Wives Shun High Meat Prices

LONDON (AP)—British housewives did a lot of shrewd window shopping, and at the end of the first week of ration-free meat they had emerged victorious in an unorganized buyers' strike.

Women admired the beautiful steaks which dealers, freed on July 3 of government control for the first time in more than 14 years, displayed in their shops.

But, with prices generally double what they were in rationing days, women were buying little meat.

Hundreds of tons piled up in the shops, and by the weekend prices had tumbled to levels in some cases lower than those prevailing in the years of government curbs.

"I made a tasty window display of lovely meat with price tags attached," said one London butcher.

"Well, I watched the first 14 women who took an interest. Thirteen turned up their noses and walked away. One came in and bought a kidney. That's no way to run a butcher shop. I guess the ladies have won."

As a result, cuts of beef were settling down to a general price level somewhat higher than in rationing days. Lamb chops remained about the same. Some stewing meats were cheaper.

Most dealers expected prices would stabilize at just a little above the range of rationing days.

Veto Of Farm Bill Debated By Senators

Upper House Panel's Snub Of Ike's Flexible Plan Stirs New Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate foes in the battle over farm price supports today advanced rival forecasts on what President Eisenhower would do if Congress votes continued high-level, rigid price props for the nation's major crops.

Sen. Young (R-ND), a champion of the existing rigid support system, said he didn't think Eisenhower would exercise a veto. He predicted most Republican and Democratic senators would vote for a one-year extension of high-level supports.

But Chairman Aiken (R-Vt) of the Senate Agriculture Committee, a backer of the administration's flexible price prop plan, said an extension bill would run into a presidential turndown.

An Eisenhower veto, if not overridden by the legislators, would have heavy impact on the farm program because under present law a flexible 75-90 per cent of parity support system would automatically go into effect.

THIS FARM legislation was passed by Congress in 1948-49 but so far Congress has not let it take effect. Instead, the lawmakers have voted from time to time to extend the flat wartime support rate of 90 per cent of parity for basic crops. Parity is a price said by law to be fair for agricultural products in terms of the cost of goods farmers buy.

Eisenhower, who wants a 75-90 per cent sliding scale, was dealt a setback yesterday when the Senate committee voted out 13-2 a measure which among other things would extend the 90 per cent rate a year.

The bill also departed from administration recommendations in several other important respects.

The House last week okayed an 82½-90 per cent flexible scale in what the President termed "a great and sweeping" victory for the administration program. He said he personally would have prevented any parity drop below 80 per cent in the first year anyway.

Young today said administration supporters contend most of the basic crops would remain near the 90 per cent level anyway under the flexible system. Therefore, he said, he sees "no reason not to write this into law."

The North Dakotan said he is counting on a number of prominent farm-state senators to help sustain the Senate committee's bill's (Continued on Page Two)

Couple Reunited After Each Is Married To New Mate

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP)—The soldier was telling a reporter of his rodeo experiences when a startled expression came over his face and he blurted out:

"It can't be true—it's my first wife." I paused, then: "My god, baby, I've searched all over the country for you."

And that's how a slim attractive proofreader and the husband she had believed dead five years were reunited last night in the newsroom of the Newport News Daily Press, where the soldier was being interviewed.

The two, Mrs. Wayne Ferguson and Donald Eugene (Tex) Tinkle, had given up hope of ever seeing each other again and both had remarried.

Mrs. Ferguson, 24, believed Tinkle was killed in a rodeo accident in 1949 at Camden, N. J. Tinkle, 25, now a soldier at nearby Ft. Eustis, obtained a divorce in Nevada in 1951 on grounds of desertion after two years of fruitlessly searching for her.

The two were separated in Roanoke, Va., in 1948 shortly after their daughter, who'll be 5 years old Monday, was born and Tinkle suffered a serious leg and ankle injury in a rodeo accident. Tinkle left his wife, then a trick rider,

Both Sides Prepare New Tussle Over Bypass Plan

Both sides in the Route 23 bypass dispute were quietly preparing Saturday for the latest, and likely hottest, showdown on the long controversy.

At a special meeting next Tuesday night, City Council will once more have an opportunity to put the municipal okay on the state's plan to take the highway off Court Street and loop it around the western side of the corporation. A new ordinance to be placed before the lawmakers has been in the planning stages for several weeks here, and reportedly carries greater strength than any of the previous measures tried unsuccessfully by the bypass backers.

The ordinance presumably has the support of the majority of the property owners who have land along the route of the bypass. It will be a "detachment" measure—authorizing withdrawal of the city's western limits—and such an ordinance would have to have the property owner support before it could be considered.

But property owner support, the bypass leaders claim, is only one of the strong points in their new strategy, drawn up with previous setbacks and legal loopholes in mind. Further details of the new effort are scheduled to be disclosed when Council begins study of the new ordinance.

COUNCIL HAS had many opportunities to clear the way for the bypass, and in fact did give municipal approval once—only to have the legislation later nullified on legal technicalities. In recent weeks there have been strong indications that the balance of power among the lawmakers has finally swung heavily in favor of the new highway route.

Foes of the bypass have frequently said they may carry the argument into court. Bypass forces contend however, that approval by Council and subsequent sanction by Pickaway County commissioners will clear the stage for immediate start of the work here, regardless of any threat of higher appeal.

SCIENTISTS SET FOR ARCTIC STUDY

MONTREAL (AP)—Groups of Canadian and U. S. scientists are going into voluntary isolation in Arctic regions again this summer, seeking to learn more about the mysterious living habits of plants and animals in northern waters.

More than 20 research scientists will take part in the campaign, the ninth of its kind organized by the Arctic Institute of North America, whose headquarters are at Montreal's McGill University.

Aided by grants from the institute the United States Navy and several foundations and corporations, the scientists will make a concerted attack on problems of northern hydrobiology.

Another couple, not knowing

Tinkle was married, took the injured man in their trailer with the rodeo to Nova Scotia after the Camden mishap.

He said there were blank spots in his memory but about six months later he began to remember his past and returned to Roanoke to search for his wife.

Tinkle remarried last year and was drafted in November. His second wife is with him at Ft. Eustis. Mrs. Ferguson lives with her husband in nearby Warwick.

The two couples spent the evening together reminiscing and comparing notes of the last five years.

Said Mrs. Ferguson:

"It's wonderful to see Tex again but we've both grown up and we've both taken up different ways of life. We wouldn't be happy going back together again. We're just so happy to see each other—all four of us."

TEACHERS PROTEST

WILLARD (AP)—Two more teachers quit their jobs with the public school system here yesterday, bringing to nine the number of resignations since April. The latest two to quit were basketball coach William Wise and Joan Arrington, a sixth grade teacher.

The trouble started when the school board refused to renew the contract of the former superintendent, Dale W. Gates, who now has been hired to head the New Garden schools near Salem. The teachers here were behind Gates almost

'Know God' Topic Of Presbyterians At Sunday Service

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed during the 10:30 a.m. worship hour at the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning. The theme for the sermon will be, "Know God At First Hand."

"There is a growing tendency among men to feel that if only they could know better, Him who made this world and put them in it, a better world would open up before them. They feel that life would take on new meaning, new purpose, new values; that problems would be more satisfactorily solved; a greater sense of security and well-being would crown each day, and the joy of abundance fill their souls.

"All this and more is true. But how does one come by these possessions? How does one come to know God at first hand? And how does such knowledge operate to shower upon us all these blessings? Answer is found in the sermon which will be developed from the words of Christ recorded in the 17th chapter of the Gospel of St. John."

In the choir, Miss Patsy Huston will sing the soprano solo, "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains." The Order for Daily Morning Prayer, 9:30 a.m.; Church School classes through Grade 2, 9:30 a.m.; Nursery School, 9:30 a.m.

St. Philip's Begins A Vacation Church School On Monday

St. Philip's Episcopal Parish will begin its daily vacation church school Monday at 9 a. m. and will continue the sessions from 9 a. m. until 11:30 a. m. daily for the next two weeks.

Material to be studied will emphasize the life and teachings of Christ and will be centered on the theme, "Building Citizens for Christ and Church". Textbooks, handicraft, games and other activities will be used to illustrate lesson material.

Members of the Women's Auxiliary will serve refreshments daily and the school will join with the parish in a group picnic July 21. Mrs. L. Goeller is in charge of recreation for the school and The Rev. Jack C. Bennett is acting as Dean.

Writing to the Corinthians, Paul tells them that because of their envy and strife, and divisions, he could not address them as mature Christians, but as children.

Paul reminded the Corinthians that Christ had said that men have differing talents, so He appointed some to be prophets, some evangelists, and some pastors and teachers.

What are the Christian virtues? Peter says, Add to your faith virtue, and to virtue knowledge, to knowledge temperance, patience, godliness, brotherly kindness and charity.

In 1950, for the first time, more than one half of United States citizens were women.

Finally St. Peter said, Christians should "Grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. To Him be glory both now and forever."

MEMORY VERSE—Ephesians 4:15

Writing to the Ephesians when Paul himself was a prisoner, he tries to make them see that there was no need for jealousy and envy among them. When Christ was with the apostles He told them that men had differing talents, so recognizing the peculiar gifts of His followers, He appointed "some apostles; and some prophets; and some evangelists; and some pastors and teachers."

Some of us may have harbored the idea that the Apostle Paul was a somewhat austere man, much given to the laying down of the law. However, no one but Christ Himself speaks so often of love and its pacifying and binding qualities.

'Know God' Topic Of Presbyterians At Sunday Service

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed during the 10:30 a. m. worship hour at the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning. The theme for the sermon will be, "Know God At First Hand."

"There is a growing tendency among men to feel that if only they could know better, Him who made this world and put them in it, a better world would open up before them. They feel that life would take on new meaning, new purpose, new values; that problems would be more satisfactorily solved; a greater sense of security and well-being would crown each day, and the joy of abundance fill their souls.

"All this and more is true. But how does one come by these possessions? How does one come to know God at first hand? And how does such knowledge operate to shower upon us all these blessings?" Answer is found in the sermon which will be developed from the words of Christ recorded in the 17th chapter of the Gospel of St. John.

In the choir, Miss Patsy Huston will sing the soprano solo, "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains." The choir will lead the congregation in singing the hymns: "Praise Ye the Lord, the Almighty"; "I Love Thy Kingdom, Lord" and the communion hymn, "Here, O My Lord I See Thee Face to Face."

At the organ, Mrs. Theodore L. Huston will play: "Au Couvent," "Nocturne" and "Pomposo."

In the evening at 6:30 p. m. young adults are invited to the pastor's home for an outdoor supper and an informal evening of visiting.

The Board of Trustees will hold its regularly scheduled meeting Tuesday evening at 8 p. m. in the service room of the church.

The pastor, moderator of the Presbytery of Columbus, will moderate an adjourned meeting of the Presbytery, at the Mt. Pleasant Presbyterian Church at Kingston, Thursday at 7:30 p. m. to ordain the licentiate J. H. Bartlett into the Pilgrim Ministry. The Rev. Mr. Bartlett will then be installed as pastor of the Mt. Pleasant and Whisler churches, from which he received his call.

First EUB To Hear Lordship Of Jesus As Sermon Basis

"Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you!" These words of Jesus from St. John 15:14 are the basis from which The Rev. Carl L. Wilson, pastor of First Evangelical United Brethren Church, develops the sermon, "The Lordship of Jesus," at the Unified Worship-Church School session at 9:30 a. m. Sunday.

Thoughts from the sermon: "Every person and the world needs an authority. The freer we are the greater the need for discipline. The discovery of an authority, not tyrannical, not fascist, an authority that can and must make righteous demands and issue benevolent promises with ability and will to fulfill them is one of the greatest needs of the hour. That authority may be discovered in Jesus Christ. The Lordship of Jesus is an introduction to His friendship. . . . Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you."

"Man discovers the Lordship of Jesus in simple choices. Simple alternatives are placed in one's mind by parents, society, associates, the church, with Jesus standing on one side. Is not this itself an indication of the dominance of Christ that He has so influenced the common life that we can feel His demands? Simple choices are made through life which lead to an experience of His Lordship.

"We discover the Lordship of Jesus in critical choices, such as the choice of a life work and the choice one makes at this point is momentous. One discovers the Lordship of Jesus by persistent choices. These persistent choices come by our acceptance of the true and right principles of life. By the principle of honesty, stewardship, benevolence, purity, and temperance the doors are open into the inner room where people have learned to know the Master Worker of the race."

Organist Lucille Kirkwood offers "Dew of the Morning", by MacDonald; "Impromptu Religioso", by Armstrong and "A Song of Gratitude", by Marks.

Church school superintendent Edwin Richardson gives the call to worship and invocation and leads the congregation in the reaffirmation of a common faith in praise, doctrine and prayer. Montford Kirkwood Jr. leads the church choir in singing the anthem, "What Manner of Man is This?"

The congregation joins in singing hymns, "Holy! Holy! Holy! Lord, God Almighty!"; "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name"; "Crown Him with Many Crowns" and "Lead On, O King, Eternal."

THE GREAT SHAKING OUT

JULY IS A milestone in more ways than one. Corn, for example, was supposed to be "knee high by the Fourth of July." In the world of major league baseball the great shaking out is supposed to have been just about complete. Legend has it that the standing of a team on July 4 is the same as it will be in the last frenetic days of September.

Statisticians, who do not care a fig for the height of corn or position of one team or another, say the maxim is good in some years and dead wrong in others.

If your memory goes back no farther than 1952 the rule of thumb is perfectly good. In that year, as was the case last year, the eventual winner in both leagues held first place on the Fourth. But in 1951 the Giants in the National League were 6½ games behind the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Giants beat the Dodgers in the last game of the league season on a last ditch homer.

It has happened before, and it is sure to happen again, that the teams which don't know they are licked are still happily acting as though they belong where they are on the percentage ladder. Comes July disillusion, and collapse.

RICHES FROM TOIL

THIS IS THE story of Otto Eulert, whose post office address, strangely enough, is in Paradise, Kans. In 18 years he parlayed a mortgage debt of $9,000 into a fortune which admiring neighbors say is at least $1,000,000. Although oil was discovered in recent years, the basis of his success is wheat and cattle.

Surrounded by every convenience possible to modern living, distant places offer no lure to Eulert and his family. The seven children are being educated to take over operation of the thousands of acres accumulated during the years. Industry has brought no sacrifice in gracious living.

While the neighbors were wondering why the Eulerts were not off to some vacation spot, Eulert was manning a combine at the start of the current wheat harvest. "Why should I pay someone for running a combine when I can do it myself?" he asks. The key to this success story seems to be that he does whatever needs to be done himself.

NO SURE THING

SINCE WEST German Chancellor Adenauer's smashing victory of last September there has been a tendency in the West to take the West Germans for granted. This could be a dangerous assumption. Though now committed to a policy of Western integration before all-German unification, they may kick over the traces if it begins to appear that integration is a chimera.

The Soviets are working overtime to give the puppet East German regime the illusion of independence preliminary to a new blast urging unification. The fact that the WASHINGTON — "What has been Chief Justice Earl Warren's contribution to the Supreme Court?" inquires F. G., of Los Angeles, Calif. "Has he improved it, or what? And what chance is there that the Republicans might name him for President in 1956, if Eisenhower refuses to run?"

Answer: Chief Justice Warren has shaken up the Supreme Court more violently than any predecessor since Charles Evans Hughes, when the latter wrested pro-New Deal decisions from his conservative colleagues in order to outmaneuver F. D. R. in the court-packing battle.

The Californian has liberalized our top judicial body, speeded up its operations and achieved greater harmony among the erstwhile squabbling jurists than even Hughes was able to attain. Hughes could never make those delightful rebels, Holmes and Brandeis, behave. Warren has tamed such judicial mavericks as Black and Douglas.

RULINGS — Under Warren's leadership, the court handed down more decisions, major and minor, at the last session than it had in many years. He hopes to keep the dockets of all federal courts moving along faster than they ordinarily do. And there were fewer dissents and split decisions under his regime than there have been for some time.

His ability to obtain a unanimous ruling in the school segregation litigation, as well as in the decision vesting distribution of natural gas under the Federal Power Commission, reflects his philosophy. He is far more "liberal" than was the late Fred Vinson, Truman's appointee.

In fact, he is too "liberal" to suit many Republican conservatives. That is why he has almost no chance for the 1956 nomination, even if he would accept.

"Will you please inform us," requests H. L. of St. Johns, Mich., "just what was the 'Teapot Dome of Nebraska'?"

Answer: That expression refers to an outrageous deal under which New York promoters, bankers and New Deal public power fanatics bought out the state's private utilities at fantastically inflated prices. The New York financial interests made a killing and the New Dealers transformed Nebraska into a laboratory for their economic experiment.

The losers were Nebraska's users of electricity and the American taxpayers.

SCHEME — The scheme was engineered by Guy (Flash) Myers, with the aid of his New York and New Deal cronies, the late Sen. George W. Norris of Nebraska and Harold L. Ickes. Ickes first advanced PWA funds to tellingly $160 million to build a few generating stations and

"I told him to propose again when his frozen assets were defrosted."

CHAPTER SEVENTEEN

"ARE YOU going to register again?" Cynthia asked after Nora had told of her patient's death. She had fixed coffee and a lettuce and tomato sandwich, which she now put down before the other nurse.

"No, I don't think so. I think I'll just stay home—until Alan gets here." At mention of her sweetheart's name, Nora's small, piquant face lighted up so that it was not plain at all but beautiful.

"Well, you can do with a rest."

"Not only that," Nora returned, "but it will give me a chance to do some shopping."

"Trousseau?" Cynthia teased. She poured herself another cup of coffee and sat down opposite Nora. She had had a busy morning, showing Miss Whiting about the clinic. And having been out late last night, she was ready to relax and to take things easy, too.

She had not told Norman that she was going to take a prescribed vacation. She would not have known how to explain it to him, for one thing. She preferred to have him believe her days were full; he might keep calling her, or dropping in unexpectedly.

She wanted to go slowly and carefully with Norman. She had no desire to be swept off her feet.

"Yes," Nora said, her face lighting up again. "Alan wants to be married almost as soon as he gets here."

"I should think so! You two have waited long enough."

And there could be no doubt as to their love, Cynthia thought, with a small pang of envy. They had known each other so long, grown up together, shared the same things, never thought there might be anyone else for either one.

It seemed to her that that was the way love should be. Not a thunderbolt, as Norman claimed.

"It has been a long while," Nora sighed. "But I wait all my life for Alan if I had to."

Well, that might be all right for some people, Cynthia thought, but did she want to wait a lifetime to try to wake up to be old and gray, as she had said to him. She wanted to build a marriage, home; she wanted to have children of her own, not spend all her life taking care of other people's.

"I'll go shopping with you," she said. "I just adore looking at lovely things, even when I can't afford to buy them."

"Don't you have to work?"

"I stopped today." Then, at the other nurse's astounded expression, Cynthia laughed and added,

"I'm on vacation. It seems that Dr. Sellars thinks I need a rest, and a change, too."

"Well, it all works out beautifully," Nora was pleased. She had not caught the slight suggestion of irony in Cynthia's last remark.

Then there were the children who had been affected from birth with spastic contractions, hypertension of muscles that caused their movements to be stiff and grotesque. Sometimes they had what an unknown observer would call "its" rhythmic contortions that made them stumble and fall, twist and turn; or such spasms began in the face and throat, so that people who did not understand thought they were half-witted.

Oh, they all just about broke her heart at times! She loved every one of them. They were normal children, capable of learning and growing, of loving and living. Yet they had to be set apart; they could not share in normal activities, playtime and schoolmates, the foolish, wonderful age of adolescence.

Fever, Infection, Cause Children's Convulsions

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

MOST childhood convulsions when caused by fever or infection are innocent symptoms, similar to adult chills. They do not necessarily forecast epilepsy in later life. Two to three per cent of all children have one or more fever convulsions in their first few years of life.

Causes of Convulsion

A fever in itself will not cause a convulsion. An accompanying infection usually must be present with the fever in order to cause the fit. It can occur many times when the temperature is not high, as long as the infection is present. Sometimes it follows a mild cold or infection.

If they are prolonged, or attended by much coma, they may cause some brain damage. In most instances, however, parents need have no worry. However, a physician should always be called to treat the child.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Mrs. F. F.: My son, who is five years old, recently has had a painless enlargement of one testicle. What can be causing this?

Answer: It may be due to some infection or it might be due to a growth of the testicle. It would be well to have your son examined by a physician.

With this competitive beginning, and with the threat of additional federal expansion, they forced the private companies to sell their facilities to the public utility districts.

EXEMPTION — Although the Federal Power Commission had evaluated Omaha's private power facilities at only $273 million, Myers and the public utility districts paid $46 million for the property.

They were able to do so because the private companies paid $10 million in taxes, whereas the public power authority would be tax-exempt. In other words, the bankers, promoters and New Deal politico capitalized on and cashed in on the tax exemption.

Myers' admitted fee for negotiating the deal was $504,000. He is now trying to put over a similar scheme with respect to private utilities in the state of Washington, but so far he has been stymied by federal court decisions.

THE GREAT SHAKING OUT

JULY IS A milestone in more ways than one. Corn, for example, was supposed to be "knee high by the Fourth of July." In the world of major league baseball the great shaking out is supposed to have been just about complete. Legend has it that the standing of a team on July 4 is the same as it will be in the last frenetic days of September.

Statisticians, who do not care a fig for the height of corn or position of one team or another, say the maxim is good in some years and dead wrong in others.

If your memory goes back no farther than 1932 the rule of thumb is perfectly good. In that year, as was the case last year, the eventual winner in both leagues held first place on the Fourth. But in 1951 the Giants in the National League were 6½ games behind the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Giants beat the Dodgers in the last game of the league season on a last ditch homer.

It has happened before, and it is sure to happen again, that the teams which don't know they are licked are still happily acting as though they belong where they are on the percentage ladder. Comes July disillusion, and collapse.

RICHES FROM TOIL

THIS IS THE story of Otto Eulert, whose post office address, strangely enough, is Paradise, Kans. In 18 years he parlayed a mortgage debt of $9,000 into a fortune which admiring neighbors say is at least $1,000,000. Although oil was discovered in recent years, the basis of his success is wheat and cattle.

Surrounded by every convenience possible to modern living, distant places offer no lure to Eulert and his family. The seven children are being educated to take over operation of the thousands of acres accumulated during the years. Industry has brought no sacrifice in gracious living.

While the neighbors were wondering why the Eulerts were not off to some vacation spot, Eulert was manning a combine at the start of the current wheat harvest. "Why should I pay someone for running a combine when I can do it myself?" he asks. The key to this success story seems to be that he does whatever needs to be done himself.

NO SURE THING

SINCE WEST German Chancellor Adenauer's smashing victory of last September there has been a tendency in the West to take the West Germans for granted. This could be a dangerous assumption. Though now committed to a policy of Western integration before all-German unification, they may kick over the traces if it begins to appear that integration is a chimera.

The Soviets are working overtime to give the puppet East German regime the illusion of independence preliminary to a new blast urging unification. The fact that the

George E. Sokolsky's These Days

It is in the nature of the establishment of a universal state that a defeat must not be permitted to be accepted as permanent. The reason for this axiom is that defeats indicate bad planning, bad execution, incorrect analyses of conditions. Whereupon the countries on the periphery of empire look to their possibilities to make up for the failure quickly. Conversely, it was only after the United States was defeated in Korea that country after country became neutralist which is a polite term for an increasing affinity for Russia, the degree not always measurable.

Jacobo Arbenz of Guatemala put the finger on the United States as the author of his disaster. Therefore in the logic of history, the United States in Guatemala won a victory over the Soviet Universal State in its first major effort to establish a Communist country on the American continents. There had been previous abortive efforts.

Arbenz said:

"Workers, peasants, patriots, friends, people of Guatemala. Guatemala is undergoing a very hard trial. Two weeks ago a cruel war was unleashed against Guatemala; apparently no Government is responsible for it. That does not mean we don't know who unleashed this aggression against our beloved country. The United Fruit Company, the U. S. monopolies, in connivance with U. S. governing circles, are responsible for what is happening to us."

He added:

"I say goodbye, my friends, with bitter sorrow, but still firm in my convictions. Preserve what has been so costly; 10 years of struggle, tears, and sacrifices, of democratic gains, are many years to gain say history. I have not been confuted by the enemy's arguments, but by the material means for the destruction of Guatemala."

And he ended with a typical Russian Communist salute:

"With the satisfaction of a man who believes he has done his duty, with faith in the future, I say: Long live the October Revolution! Viva Guatemala!"

The October Revolution which Arbenz salutes is, of course, the seizure of power by the Communists in Russia under Lenin and Trotzky. By this salute Arbenz acknowledges the source of his inspiration.

By these words, as realistic as standard prayers, he declares himself a Marxist under the tutelage of the Kremlin.

The technique of control and operations of the Arbenz government not only indicates Communist tutelage but the presence of Russian advisers. As evidence of this may be cited the language of the following order, issued on June 25:

"To all Departmental Governors of the Republic, circular:

"Capture at once all anti-Communist mayors and city administration employees who are now members of the Revolutionary Party and who were previously known as anti-Communists. Hold them in prison. When you hear the first shot of the attack, shoot them at once. Acknowledge.

"Signed: Cruz, Director General of the Civil Guard."

June 16 anniversary of the East German worker uprisings passed without marked unrest would signify that the communist bosses have the situation well in hand again.

The pull of a reunified Germany is strong for all Germans, East of West. If the U. S.-sponsored defense plans for Europe collapse, the reds can be expected to make hay in Germany.

RULINGS — Under Warren's leadership, the court handed down more decisions, major and minor, at the last session than it had in many years. He hopes to keep the dockets of all federal courts moving along faster than they ordinarily do. And there were fewer dissents and split decisions under his regime than there have been for some time.

His ability to obtain a unanimous ruling in the school segregation litigation, as well as in the decision vesting distribution of natural gas under the Federal Power Commission, reflects his philosophy. He is far more "liberal" than was the late Fred Vinson, Truman's appointee.

In fact, he is too "liberal" to suit many Republican conservatives. That is why he has al-

"Will you please inform us," requests H. L. of St. Johns, Mich., "just what was the 'Teapot Dome of Nebraska'?"

Answer: That expression refers to an outrageous deal under which New York promoters, bankers and New Deal public power fanatics bought out the state's private utilities at fantastically inflated prices. The New York financial interests made a killing and the New Dealers transformed Nebraska into a laboratory for their economic experiment.

The losers were Nebraska's users of electricity and the American taxpayers.

SCHEME — The scheme was engineered by Guy (Flash) Myers, with the aid of his New York and New Deal cronies, the late Sen. George W. Norris of Nebraska and Harold L. Ickes. Ickes first advanced PWA funds totalling $160 million to build a few generating stations and

Fever, Infection, Cause Children's Convulsions

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

MOST childhood convulsions when caused by fever or infection are innocent symptoms, similar to adult chills. They do not necessarily forecast epilepsy in later life. Two to three per cent of all children have one or more fever convulsions in their first few years of life.

Causes of Convulsion

A fever in itself will not cause a convulsion. An accompanying infection usually must be present with the fever in order to cause the fit. It can occur many times when the temperature is not high, as long as the infection is present. Sometimes it follows a wide cold or infection.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Mrs. F. F.: My son, who is five years old, recently has had a painless enlargement of one testicle. What can be causing this?

Answer: It may be due to some infection or it might be due to a growth of the testicle. It would be well to have your son examined by a physician.

GE Takes Round Championships In Pony And Softball Divisions

General Electric sewed up the first round Pony League championship without even playing a game last week. Their 5-0 record was good enough to top the Elks who won 4 and lost 2 games. The Elks' two wins last week came too late.

In the Little League, competition became a wide-open affair when GE beat the Elks, which must be classified as the upset of the week. Up to then Elks had won four in a row. Monday the number one and two teams in the first round meet head on when Elks tangle with Kiwanis. Kiwanis lost but one game.

Ashville Irwins, in the County League, still hold a half-lead over GE. The Ashville nine has won four games and GE three. Neither has been defeated. The two meet July 19. However, second half play starts Wednesday.

By virtue of a ruling decided on in the spring, GE has won the summer Recreation Softball title. They won both the first and second rounds. Regardless of which team takes the third round, GE will be the season's champs.

MOSQUITO LEAGUE Standings

will not be kept for the rest of the summer, according to Dick Boyd, Park director. Instead, the boys will go right on playing each afternoon. Teams will be chosen up each day.

Circleville High School faces a rough weekend with double-headers Saturday and Sunday. On Saturday, Jim McConnell and either Walt Sieverts or Jim Callahan will go against West Jefferson, coach Dick Boyd said. Sunday, hurlers will be either Sieverts or Callahan in the first game and either Eddie Tomlinson or Mike Hosler in the second, Boyd explained.

The Kochheiser Little League All-Stars, managed by Red Wilson, and aided by the other Little League managers, will open their 1954 season Friday night against a top-notch Chillicothe Little League nine. The All-Stars were one of the top drawing cards at Lewis Park last summer and should be this one, according to indications. The All-Stars are completely outfitted with special uniforms.

GE Takes Round Championships In Pony And Softball Divisions

General Electric sewed up the first round Pony League championship without even playing a game last week. Their 5-0 record was good enough to top the Elks who won 4 and lost 2 games. The Elks' two wins last week came too late.

In the Little League, competition became a wide-open affair when GE beat the Elks, which must be classified as the upset of the week. Up to then Elks had won four in a row. Monday the number one and two teams in the first round meet head on when Elks tangle with Kiwanis. Kiwanis lost but one game.

Asheville Irwins, in the County League, still hold a hair lead over GE. The Asheville nine has won four games and GE three. Neither has been defeated. The two meet July 19. However, second half play starts Wednesday.

By virtue of a ruling decided on in the spring, GE has won the summer Recreation Softball title. They won both the first and second rounds. Regardless of which team takes the third round, GE will be the season's champs.

MOSQUITO LEAGUE Standings will not be kept for the rest of the summer, according to Dick Boyd, Park director. Instead, the boys will go right on playing each afternoon. Teams will be chosen up each day.

Vacation Memo: Those Green Leaves May Not Be Friendly!

Stubborn Sting Of Poison Ivy Can Spoil Fun

Quick Wash, Done
With Care, Can Reduce Attacks

This is the time of year when residents of Pickaway County and the rest of the nation are reminded—often too late—that the green devil, poison ivy, is always waiting to spoil somebody's vacation.

The three-leaved dragon of the fields and roadsides—and perhaps your back yard—is a notorious foe of happy outings although medical men warn that its record is by no means limited to holiday groups. One of the latest nationwide warnings, by Dr. D. V. Whipple, includes most of the precautions listed by health officials and doctors in the local area.

Dr. Whipple's word of caution on poison ivy follows:

In your own yard you can get rid of this troublesome plant with special sprays, but you cannot eliminate it from the wide country.

Some people are much more sensitive to the poison in this plant than others. But even if you think you are immune, treat poison ivy with respect. A big enough dose will probably give even the most resistant person an itchy skin.

The poison of poison ivy is an oil in the leaf and in the wood of the plant. This oil causes an irritation on the skin which shows as tiny blisters, about 25 hours after contact.

A red area surrounds the blisters and the skin itches. When you scratch—and it's next to impossible not to scratch—the fluid in the blisters spreads about the skin and causes more irritation. Also, the fluid gets on the hands and can be spread to other parts of the body.

IF YOU know, or suspect, that you or your children have come in contact with poison ivy, a good thorough wash immediately, with hot water and soap, will remove the oil before it's had time to cause much trouble.

A hard scrubbing brush, however, will scratch the skin enough to help the oil penetrate and thus do more harm than good.

Once the blisters have appeared be very careful with water. The fluid in the blisters can be spread around by getting the part wet.

Washing and breaking the blisters with alcohol will help to dry them up. It hurts and it stings, but it works. You can do this if the area is small, but I wouldn't recommend it for a large area or a deep one.

When the skin is blistery and oozy it's best to put some kind of anti-itch on the skin. Calamine lotion or a calamine ointment are good to use. Then bandage the area if it's in a spot where you can bandage it.

Be careful with adhesive tape. The adhesive injures the skin a little bit. The poison ivy irritation is more apt to spread into areas of injured skin than into areas of good healthy skin. If the place you want to bandage is on the arm or leg,

Actor's Son Back In Trouble Again

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Edward G. Robinson Jr., 21, son of the actor, has been arrested and booked on suspicion of drunkenness, his third such arrest in recent months.

Police said they were called to a Hollywood intersection yesterday by taxicab driver Fred Aguila, who claimed young Robinson had him $1.65. Officers said there also was a complaint that Robinson had created a disturbance in an apartment house by pounding on a door. Robinson was being held at the Hollywood police station.

Girls' Counselor Dies At Camp

TIFFIN (AP) — Kay McClelland of Findlay, a 17-year-old girls' counselor, died yesterday when she fell off a diving board at a YWCA camp south of here.

Robert Pafenbacher, physical education director at Camp Pittenger, pulled the girl from the water and tried unsuccessfully to revive her by artificial respiration.

Seneca County Coroner Q. B. Smith later ruled she died of a heart attack.

Mother Sees Son In Fatal Crash

MARYSVILLE (AP) — Mrs. Helen Casey of Irionton left the car of her son, Burton Leroy Casey, 32, because she disapproved of the way he was driving.

Minutes later, she and her 5-year-old son, picked up by a passing motorist, watched as Casey's car skidded out of control and crashed into a tree.

He was killed. The crash occurred on Ohio 4 near here.

put the gauze all the way around and fasten it by tying or with adhesive that is only on bandage and not on skin.

IF THE area of poison ivy is large, and especially if it's around the face and eyes you better go to your doctor right away. There are some shots which help clear it up. Also sometimes medicine given by mouth will help. But it's the doctor's job to decide when these measures should be taken.

The summer when the leaves are on the plant it ought not to be too hard to keep away from the plant.

But in the early spring and the late fall even the most careful person may run into poison ivy without knowing it.

A Woman's Place Is In Home; A Man's Is Staying Out Of Way

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — It's fun to be an old-fashioned man.

I don't help with the housework. Well, not much.

I just finished reading one of those quarrel-causing pieces the ladies' magazines print about whether husbands should do housework.

Some of their conclusions about how many dishes a husband should wash or dry in the evening are supposed to be based on new research.

In 16 years of married life, I have been polled only once on this important subject.

"I have in my hand here a wet plate that my great grandmother carried over the Ozarks at great toil," said my bride, the meal after our honeymoon. "Can't you at least dry it without dropping it?"

"No" I replied frankly. "Since then I have been a perfect husband about helping with the house work. When my dear says, 'get out of the way,' well, I get out of the way."

A lot of husbands I meet say they really enjoy pitching in and doing the housework. They say a lot of keen guys they know feel the same way.

There are some sociological experts who say that the presence of children in the home is an inducement for a father to leap forward and assume a share of preening the home nest.

Once I absent-mindedly scrawled on a filmed-over table top, "Dust this!" just the other day the baby was crawling south on the floor. I felt the situation justified me in scrawling in pencil on the north side of her diaper:

"Change this."

These two messages pretty well sum up my own ideas of how a man can help with the housework. The main idea, as I see it, is to keep the girl on her toes, show her opportunities she does not realize, joyous ways she can inflict those small imperishable female touches that distinguish a

Now the strategic problem that faces the planners in the Kremlin is how to overcome the effects of this defeat.

1. Shall they institute a diversionary effort, such as evoked in the Berlin Airlift while they were conquering China?

2. Shall that diversionary effort be on the American continents or elsewhere?

3. Shall they undertake to retake Guatemala by guerrilla warfare, or by a state of constant revolution?

4. Shall they abandon the effort in Guatemala and develop a Soviet State in some other American country?

It is not to be forgotten that Guatemala is at least the fourth attempt to develop a Soviet State in the Americas. Constantine Oumansky tried Cuba and Mexico where he failed and died in an airplane crash. British Guiana was the next attempt and it failed because of the swift military action by the British. Guatemala was long in the making as a Communist base and all the evidence concerning it was amply reported to our government by Richard C. Patterson, Jr., when he was our Ambassador to that country (1948-51). In fact, Patterson was relieved of his post because his reports were correct and therefore a nuisance.

Guatemala is geographically a suitable place for a Soviet State, but the likelihood is that operations are already beginning in some other American country.
